

RECAPTURE Program

good for the environment, good for you

Decrease your waste disposal costs, boost your bottom line, and make a positive impact on the environment.

Landfill-bound waste, shrinking landfills and the cost of disposal threaten not only the environment but the viability of businesses that must use plastic for packaging and transport.

Respond to these challenges by maintaining a comprehensive, consistent environmental focus, working continuously to:

- comply with environmental regulations
- improve environmental performance
- minimize environmental impact through pollution prevention activities

If you don't recycle, you'll pay for disposal.

Through our National Recapture Program, you can reduce your company's waste disposal costs while minimizing your environmental footprint.

Selling your used products to for recycling also helps decrease your operating costs, preserve resources, and generate revenue through our buy-back plan.
