MHB-TP12

Bulk Pallet Unitizer for Beverage Containers

A significant innovation for unitizing beverage containers, the MHB-TP12 provides consistent, retained strap tension throughout the transportation cycle, resulting in improved package performance. Built with fewer parts and with features that facilitate easier maintenance and operation, the MHB-TP12 provides the lowest cost of ownership available.

Multi-level tensioning system

The MHB-TP12's innovative tensioning system equalizes the strap tension from the top and bottom to provide more accurate strap tension that stays consistent throughout the cycling process.

Specially formulated strap

Signode's 1612 Tenax polyester strapping is engineered specifically for the beverage industry to improve the overall quality of loads. Its unique composition enables larger coils of strap, resulting in fewer coil changeovers and less waste. Tenax 1612 is also fully recyclable.

MHB Modular Strapping Heads

Easier to operate

Constructed with fewer moving parts and more durable wear parts, the MHB strapping head modules cost less to maintain than other strapping heads.

Less downtime

Separate, lightweight tensioning and sealing modules are easy to access and remove for maintenance, drastically reducing downtime. When switching to a spare module, the MHB-TP12 can be up and running in minutes.
